

NEWS OF WEST POINT.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WEST POINT, VA., October 14.—Rev. Charles V. Waugh, late of Palm Beach, Florida, has accepted the charge of the West Point Baptist Church and entered on his pastoral duties. The prospects are that he will do a good work in the town. He will preach at 8 o'clock on Sunday at 8:30 P. M.

Farinholt, of Cape Charles, and Miss Jane Bagby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cathrell, pastor of the church, and the Rev. J. Phelps Hand, of Baltimore, Md., will perform the ceremony.

There is now before the board of supervisors of King William and Hanover counties an important question involving the public bridge at New Castle ferry. The draw in this bridge is so entirely out of order that it cannot be opened for the passage of boats, and unless the department at Washington, which has supervision over the same, will establish this point as the head of navigation, it may be necessary to remove the bridge entirely or to expend a large sum of money upon the same, which it is doubtful can be done at this time. It is said the draw has never been opened except for the passage of the government tug boat, and therefore the question arises whether the bridge would be more benefited by the bridge or by having navigation opened at this point. It also seems that the appropriation from Congress were expended entirely below New Castle, a larger benefit would be received from the same, and in this way the public would be benefited by closing the same. The land owners along the river at and above that point, together with those who use the bridge, are considering the advisability of submitting a petition to the Secretary of War, believing the two counties would thus save the money they have invested in this bridge, and, besides, the public at large would be greatly benefited by the retention of a public highway to Richmond.

Waiting for President.

NEW HAVEN, October 12.—Walter Camp and "Jack" Owsley returned today from Washington, where they attended the foot-ball dinner given by President Roosevelt.

Walter Camp said tonight: "I expect to hear in a day or two from the President and until then there is nothing to divulge. It is probable that an interesting announcement will be made at that time, which it would be improper to discuss now."

Coach Owsley said the dinner was a rather impromptu affair, which had its inspiration entirely at the White House. He said foot-ball was the only topic of discussion, the President doing most of the talking.

Owsley said he was sure the policy of the Yale football team would not be changed this season as a result of the conference now being held at other colleges. The entire object of the discussion, he said, was to see what could be done to eliminate the rough features.

MY DARK ROSALEEN.

By JAMES CLARENCE MANGAN.

"My Dark Rosaleen" was composed by Mangan in 1845. His own note to the poem reads: "This impassioned song, entitled, in the original, 'Róisín Dubh,' or 'The Black-Haired Little Rose,' was written in the reign of Elizabeth by one of the bards of the celebrated 'Tyrone' chieftain, Hugh the Red O'Donnell. It purports to be an allegorical address from Hugh to Ireland on the subject of his love and struggles for her, and his resolve to raise her again to the glorious position she held as a nation before the irruption of the Saxon and Norman spoilers."

MY DARK ROSALEEN.

Do not sigh, do not weep!
The priests are on the ocean green,
They march along the deep.
There's wine from the royal Pope
Upon the ocean green;
And Spanish ale shall give you hope,
My Dark Rosaleen!
My own Rosaleen!
Shall glad your heart, shall give you hope,
Shall give you health, and help, and hope,
My Dark Rosaleen!

Over hills and thro' dales,
Have I roamed for your sake;
All yesterday I sailed with sails
On river and on lake.
The Erne at its highest flood
I dashed across unseen,
For there was lightning in my blood,
My Dark Rosaleen!
My own Rosaleen!
O there was lightning in my blood,
Red lightning lightened thro' my blood,
My Dark Rosaleen!

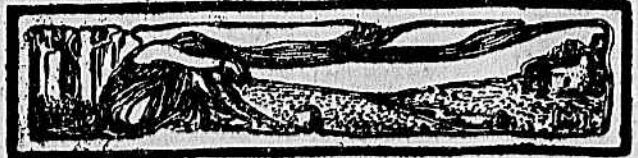

All day long, in unrest,
To and fro I move,
The very soul within my breast
Is wasted for you, love!
The heart in my bosom faints
To think of you, my queen,
My life of life, my saint of saints,
My Dark Rosaleen!
My own Rosaleen!
To hear your sweet and sad complaints,
My life, my love, my saint of saints,
My Dark Rosaleen!

Woe and pain, pain and woe,
Are my lot, night and noon.
To see your bright face clouded so,
Like to the mournful moon.
But yet will I rear your throne
Again in golden sheen;
'Tis you shall reign, shall reign alone,
My Dark Rosaleen!
My own Rosaleen!
'Tis you shall have the golden throne,
'Tis you shall reign, and reign alone,
My Dark Rosaleen!

Over dews, over sands,
Will I fly for your weal;
Your holy delicate white hands
Shall girdle me with steel.
At home in your emerald bowers,
From morning's dawn till e'en,
You'll pray for me, my flower of flowers,
My Dark Rosaleen!
My fond Rosaleen!
You'll think of me thro' daylight hours,
My virgin flower, my flower of flowers,
My Dark Rosaleen!

I could scale the blue air,
I could plow the high hills,
Oh, I could kneel all night in prayer,
To heal your many ills!
And one beamy smile from you
Would float like light between
My toils and me, my own, my true,
My Dark Rosaleen!
My fond Rosaleen!
Would give me life and soul anew,
A second life, a soul anew,
My Dark Rosaleen!

O the Erne shall run red
With redundancy of blood,
The earth shall rock beneath our tread,
And flames wrap hill and wood,
And gun-pearl and slogan cry
Wake many a glen serene,
Ere you shall fade, ere you shall die,
My Dark Rosaleen!
My own Rosaleen!
The Judgment Hour must first be nigh,
Ere you can fade, ere you can die,
My Dark Rosaleen!

What Sulphur Does

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.
The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days, when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate-coated tablets, and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs, and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary molasses and sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers are undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles, and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies, soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malnutrition, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples, also severe skin eruptions, carbuncles, and have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article, and sold by druggists, and for that reason rebuffed by many physicians, yet nothing is so effective and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and especially in all forms of skin diseases as this remedy."

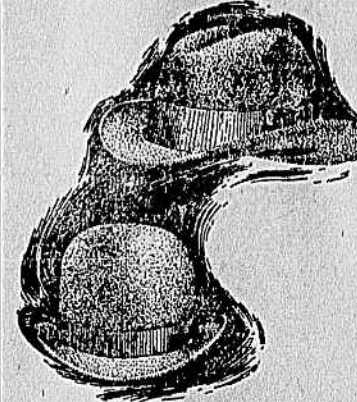

At any rate, people who are tired of pills, cathartics and so-called blood purifiers, will find Stuart's Calcium Wafers a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.
